CONSUMPTION TAKES 350 PEOPLE DAILY

Over 350 people succumb to consumption every day in the United States. Science proves that the germs only thrive when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists. The best physicians point out that during changing seasons the blood should be made rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals. The cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood; it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and throat, while it rebuilds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption. If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known. It is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug. Avoid substitutes.

Cause for Alarm

Catarrah a Danger Mark—Hyomei the Remedy—Quaranteed By Noyes Drug Store.

There is no more common yet dangerous and distressing disease than catarrah, which is generally indicated by dull headaches, sneezing, raising of mucus, and frequent colds. If it is not cured it will surely weaken the delicate tissues lining the air passages, frequently destroys the hearing, and often leads to one of the most dreadful ailments. Hyomei is a most effective, safe and reliable remedy for all catarrah ills. No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach. You simply breathe it, using a small inhaler that comes with every complete outfit. The balsamic medication of Hyomei being taken in with the air you breathe simply has to reach all the sore, raw and inflamed surfaces of the air passages—its antiseptic healing begins at once. You feel better after the first Hyomei treatment—even almost hopeless cases respond quickly. Druggists everywhere sell Hyomei, which is inexpensive, pleasant and easy to use, and surely gives quick and permanent benefit. Ask for the complete outfit. Noyes Drug Store supply their customers on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan. You certainly cannot afford to neglect your catarrah trouble, head colds, or bronchitis when you can get a harmless remedy without risking a penny. 40-42

ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER A GUARANTEED TREATMENT

"I have arranged with Chas. H. Howard & Co. so that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchial Asthma, South Paris, Me., can try my treatment entirely at my own risk," Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. He says: "Buy a 50-cent package of my Asthmador or Asthmador Cigarettes, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find it the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to Chas. H. Howard & Co., and they will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases, which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that it will do the same with others that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. The druggists handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under this positive guarantee, absolutely no risk is run in buying Asthmador." Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn. Adv. 38-45

Important to All Women Readers of this Paper.

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so. But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women. Many send for sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. 40-42

Number Eight Recollection of Early Settlers of Greenwood

By Prof. A. E. Verrill of Yale University.

The temperance agitation began in 1833, when the Greenwood Society had eighty members. The president of the Society was then the Reverend Edward Whittle; the secretary was John Small. Much honor to their names! They were fighting against a vast majority. The temperance cause was much advanced by the Washingtons, after 1842; Racabites, in 1846; and by the Sons of Temperance, after about 1850. Before 1836, conditions were deplorable in many of the older homes. The rum was sold in nearly all the grocery stores as freely as molasses, at about twenty-five cents a gallon; and nearly every house had a jug of rum on hand to treat callers and for family use. This was no longer generally the case in my early boyhood, for even then most grocers had ceased to sell it, and many of the best farmers had joined the temperance cause, but there were others who kept up the old customs, in this line, long afterwards. I remember that one old fellow, fond of his rum "straight," met his match after "burning-fluid" came into use, before kerosene was invented. That dangerous illuminant was a mixture, in about equal parts, of alcohol and turpentine. The old man slyly went into the back room of the store, where "wet goods" were kept, and drew himself a large drink of what he thought was rum and drank it on the spot. It was "burning-fluid." He didn't stop to pay for it. The cause of temperance was agitated and discussed with as much energy and zeal as were the religions of the period. Temperance lectures were frequent and often given by reformed drunkards, who did not hesitate to tell their own experiences in very convincing terms. I remember some passages of these, but do not care to repeat them. I remember, also, that one "store-keeper" told why he stopped selling rum. He sold a jug-full to a farmer who lived a mile or more away. It was a winter evening, and soon after the man left a furious snow storm arose—a regular cold blizzard. Knowing the habits of the man, he felt alarmed, and getting one or two men to help, they followed his road with lanterns, to see if he had reached home safely. They found him about half a mile on his way, by the roadside, insensible and nearly buried out of sight in a snow-drift, and about frozen to death. They carried him back and spent several hours over him, rubbing him and doing all they could to revive him and save his life. The speaker said he vowed that night that he would never sell another drop of rum, and he never did. A few minutes later the man would have perished. My father's farmhouse was afterwards occupied, about 1845 to 1856, by R. Moody; and about 1876, and later, by Benj. Peabody and Ernest Coburn. I was told that it was afterwards torn down by Frank Morgan, and that the lumber had been used to construct buildings on another farm. My father, George W. Verrill, born 1811, learned the trade of house-and-ship-carpenter in Boston. He also taught school in Greenwood. He built there, 1834 to 1844 various houses, including several at Greenwood City. About 1835 to 1840 he cleared a farm on Patch Mountain, near that of my grandfather, but about a quarter of a mile southward and higher up the hill, and built a house there, where he lived until 1844. He was then badly injured there by a load of hay falling upon him, and had to give up farming. Before that he was noted for his great strength. He conducted a store at Greenwood City, from about 1845 to 1850; at Locke's Mills in 1851; and at Norway, 1853 to 1862, when he died. He married, 1834, Lucy Hilborn, daughter of Seth B. Hilborn, then of Greenwood City, but later of Portland, Maine. She died in 1861. A record of their children is given in the History of Norway, by Lapham, page 616, but with some errors. Thus, the family name was not a Cape Cod name, but was recorded at Gloucester, on Cape Ann, 1723 to 1730. Verrill families are abundant and of ancient origin in Suffolk County, England. My father did not die in 1861, as stated, but the spring of 1862. Before my father built his house on Patch Mountain, there was, as previously mentioned, an old block-house, built of logs, for defense against Indians, on the same farm. Francis Cordwell lived in it, when first married, as narrated by Gilman Cordwell. This must have been about 1820. The block-house was probably built before or during the Revolutionary war. When I visited my father's old farm, in 1911, the buildings were gone but the cellar and well remained, and also many of the apple trees that my father planted over seventy years ago. But not a single habitation was then visible from the site of the house. In my boyhood seven or eight could be seen. The nearby house and barn of my grandfather had been torn down to rebuild on another farm. Those on the Yates farm and Patch farm were gone. That of Newton Herriek, near the cemetery, had been burned. Those in the Sanborn Brook valley to the northward were all gone. In fact, nearly all the surrounding farms had been abandoned, except that some body still cut the hay and gathered the apples. The hay was abundant on the old fields that had been cleared of trees and stumps and cultivated with so much labor by the early settlers, who were nearly all sturdy, industrious men, with equally worthy wives. They undoubtedly endured great hardships, and oftentimes great privations that were not recorded. From the site there is a grand view of the surrounding mountains, while in the distance the White Mountains and Mt. Kearsarge are plainly visible. The nearer mountains are heavily wooded, except for small scattered clearings where the old farms were located. (To be continued)

FRYEBURG.

Fryeburg, Fair. The West Oxford-Agricultural Society closed after an exhibition of three days. It was a great success in every way. The attendance was large every day, with one of the largest crowds in the 64 years of the existence of this society, on Wednesday.

There was a fine exhibit of horses and cattle, but in numbers and quality, it was not quite up to last year, which was the best ever known at the fair, and filled all the available space on the grounds. In the lower hall in the exhibition building, was a very fine display of the products of garden and field, including all the kinds of vegetables and fruits that can be raised in this section of New England. There were many traces of yellow corn. There was a very large exhibit of apples and other fruits, seeds, etc., by the Pequawket Grange of North Conway, N. H. A very creditable exhibit of fruits and vegetables was also made by the Mountain View Grange of East Conway, by the Fryeburg Grange and by a new grange, the Lake Kezar of North Lovell.

In the upper hall there was a fine general exhibit of apples, pears, grapes and jellies, canned fruits and vegetables. Most of the space however is devoted to the work of the ladies of the granges.

There was an interesting exhibit by each grange of delicious home made cookery, jellies and canned fruits and vegetables and meats, and a rich and beautiful collection of white embroidery, including all kinds of mats, cent-pieces and lunch cloths, together with quilts, carpets, rugs, and wood-work. Mrs. Daniel E. Gibson of North Conway had painted china.

Everyone is attracted by the mounted fish that belonged to the exhibit of the Fryeburg Grange. It is a fine, large specimen of land locked salmon, which was caught at Lower Kezar Falls by Charles Gray of Toll Bridge. It has been well mounted and framed.

Tobacco, Like Food, Must Be Fresh To Be Good

And tobacco cannot keep fresh after it is cut up, any better than bread or meat can. To get fresh tobacco, you must cut it off the plug yourself, just before it goes into your pipe. That's the way you use Sickle tobacco—that's the reason it burns slowly, and always affords you a cool, sweet, satisfying smoke.

Tobacco that comes already cut-up, in packages, gets dry and stale—burns fast and hot, and bites your tongue. The original flavor and moisture cannot escape from the Sickle plug—they are pressed in and kept in by the natural leaf wrapper.

More tobacco—fresh tobacco—no package to pay for—no waste—that's Sickle tobacco. Get a plug at your dealer's today.

Breach of Promise Suit.

The Portland Evening Express says:—Suit for damages in the sum of $25,000, has been instituted by Lillian M. Denmore of Portland against Guy L. Thurston, postmaster and merchant in this town. The action is based on an alleged breach of promise and the writ is returnable at the January term of the Supreme Court in Portland for Cumberland County. Attachment has been made and William H. Gulliver has been retained as counsel by Miss Denmore and Hon. Henry H. Hastings of Bethel for Mr. Thurston.

It is learned here that Miss Denmore was engaged in her professional capacity as a nurse during Mr. Thurston's illness last spring and that she followed Elizabeth H. Burns, also of Portland, who had ministered in this family in a similar capacity.

YOUR attention is respectfully called to an important point not generally known, that a laxative should have a tonic element to successfully meet constipation.

Mr. John B. Capers, of 616 Pecan St., Fort Worth, Texas, had a significant experience in this particular. He was afflicted with a severe case of constipation and bowel trouble. He spent a good deal of money in trying to find a remedy. To his astonishment Peruna very quickly relieved him of his bad symptoms.

This happened a number of years ago. Since then, Mr. Capers states that he has had similar attacks of trouble, the prominent symptom of which is constipation, and has always found prompt and efficient relief from Peruna. He says: "Up to the time I started using your Peruna I could drink castor oil like water. It did no good. As for salts, they were of no use. Physic of all kinds and classes were used, but we had to call on the fountain spring for help." Peruna was able to correct this condition completely in Mr. Capers' case, and there is every reason to believe that it was the tonic qualities of Peruna, added to the laxative qualities, that procured this very desirable result.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world? We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—“For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine.”—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 199 Waldo Street, Providence, R. I.

A Minister's Wife Writes:

CLOQUET, MINN.—“I have suffered very much with irregularities, pain and inflammation, but your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has made me well and I can recommend the same to all that are troubled with these complaints.”—Mrs. JENNIE AKERMAN, c/o Rev. K. AKERMAN, Cloquet, Minnesota.

From Mrs. J. D. Murdoch, Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—“The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living.”—Mrs. JANE D. MURDOCH, 25 Gordon St., South Quincy, Mass.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Exquisite Six

The most interesting car in the city today is this new-model HUDSON. All motorists should see it.

It has many features not yet found in any other car.

It has a beauty all its own. In big things and little it shows the skill and the pains of a great engineering corps.

In a finished way it shows the HUDSON idea of the future type of car. That means the idea of Howard E. Coffin and his 47 engineers.

Last season's model showed the result of their three years' work on this car. This new-year model shows another year's improvement—31 new refinements.

END OF EXCESS

This car marks the end of excess—the end of over-tax. No man can see it without conceding that a new day has come.

F. B. FOGG,

South Paris, Me.

Over-size, over-weight and over-price must go. This size is sufficient, with ample room for seven. This power is sufficient—the car shows 47 horsepower.

This weight is sufficient—2890 pounds—for the sturdiest sort of car. But such lightness involves many costly materials and rare skill in designing.

The new-type motor in this HUDSON Six-40 has cut operative cost about 30 per cent.

And HUDSON efficiency has established forever a new price standard for quality cars.

SEE WHAT IT MEANS

Come see what these things mean to you—this new beauty, new lightness, new economy. These new comforts and conveniences—these many new ideas in equipment.

It is the finest example on show today of the modern type of car.

IN fitting men, we have taken a hint from Mother Nature. She showed us that there are five physical types of men—the regular, the tall, the short, the slim, and the stocky. Our Kirschbaum Clothes come in special models for each of these five types. You will find perfect-fitting clothes among our many styles and models, unless your figure is absolutely abnormal.

AUTUMN MODES

We cannot too strongly urge giving immediate attention to the selection of Autumn Apparel.

TO-DAY

When the ready-to-wear garments are especially attractive and recent arrivals of new modes complete and enhance the already remarkable display, the time is most opportune for choosing Suit, Coat, Gown, Blouse, etc.

The aim of this department is to offer styles which embody all the desirable fashion points, while at the same time eliminating extreme characteristic features.

SUITS of tailored style are particularly noted for their smartness of line—their quality of fabric and indescribable nicety of detail.

Broadcloth, Cheviot, Serge and Garbardine comprise these smart suits.

SEPARATE COATS

COATS that flare, are loose and semi-fitted are particularly popular and made in a variety of materials and modes for all occasions.
